Progress since last visit

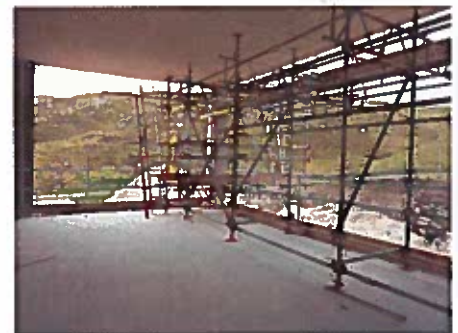

We were very excited to see the additional security turnstiles that have been installed—they are operated by fingerprint scanning, so next time we visit we will need to have our fingerprints taken!

The framework for the 'glass' ceiling that runs through the middle of the school is being installed. This will allow light to flood into the atrium.

Cantilever decking (right) has been built to allow workers to work on the outside 'envelope' of the school. This is the roof, window frames, external coverings etc. All scaffolding is checked for safety not only by the contractors but also by independent firms.

Congratulations to Mark and his team for receiving excellent marks in a recent safety inspection and also for their care of workers. Staff receive free tea and coffee, have access to a staff library (this pleased Tanya) and also have the use of bicycles. By the lovely smell coming from the canteen, they also receive excellent meals too.
